The First Lezak Institute for Social Justice

“Fixing Food”

What Ails Us & The Economy

with Angela Glover Blackwell

Camp Westwind on the Oregon Coast

The First Lezak Institute will examine food policy and its implications in the current public health crisis plaguing our nation. From Agricultural Policy to Making Dinner we will focus on what we can do in our lives, our communities and to change national policy to improve our health and the economy...and it will taste good too!

Join us on the Oregon Coast for the last days of summer vacation.

Board Members: Kris Olson, Rodney Page, Muriel Lezak, Linda Love, Margaret Hallock, Linda Williams, Ira Zarov (Chair), Larry Wallack (Ex Officio), Linda Clingan (Executive Director)

Westwind is one of the most beautiful places on the Oregon Coast. It is a center for retreats, education and research with over 500 acres of wilderness beach, salmon-bearing rivers and upland forests and meadows. In this setting participants and their families can share common space, common food, and a sense of community. Besides interactive sessions, there will be plenty of time for walks on the beach, informal conversations, recreation, campfires and fantastic food. The Institute is limited to 100 people. Make your reservations today!

Featured Speakers...

Angela Glover Blackwell, Founder & CEO of PolicyLink, located in Oakland, former Senior Vice President of the Rockefeller Foundation & national leader for social justice & equity.

Lawrence Wallack, Dean of the College of Urban and Public Affairs, Portland State University and Emeritus Professor, Public Health, UC-Berkeley.

Latricia Tillman, Administrator of the Office of Multicultural Health and Services for Oregon DHS, former Director of the Multnomah County Health Equity Initiative.

Curt Ellis, Filmmaker and writer, a co-creator and star of the feature documentary King Corn, currently a Kellogg Foundation Food and Society Fellow working on film projects.
